The emblem selected for Northwest Classen High School by the students and faculty is the Order of Saint George, one of the most ancient and honorable Orders of Knighthood ever instituted.
Some of the greatest personages recorded in history have been enrolled as members of the Most Noble Order of St. George. This Order was founded by King Edward III in 1350.

The star was devised in the second year of King Charles the First Reign. The rays surrounding the Badge form the star, which has been known since as the Order of the Garter.

Miss Jo Ann Garrison, a member of the first graduating class, made the adaptation from an original design, using purple and gold, colors symbolic of Nobility, Achievement and Victory.

The significance of the emblem has inspired the Title of Knights and Ladies for the Northwest
Classen students.

BOARD OF EDUCATION—Mr. C. B. McCray; Mrs. L. D. Melton, Mr. Jim Wright, President,
Mr. Phil Bennett, Vice President; Mr. Otto Thompson

MANY OF THE THINGS THAT THRILL the pride of Northwest Classen Knights and Ladies are directly due to the efforts and patience of our dedicated assistant principal, Mr. Lloyd M. Estes. It was he that suggested our sobriquet and it is because of his unrelenting awareness that we remain worthy of its implications. Being godfather to 2,000 students is an onerous task. Yet Mr Estes is never too busy to see a student who needs him. In addition to his administrative duties, Mr Estes sponsors the law enforcing body of the student population, the Proctor System, which he founded. The Bar Association, Proctor Court and Proctor Supreme Court are parts of the organization. He also trains the CSS Engineers, who operate the intercommunication system. His fair play and straightforwardness make him popular with students and faculty alike.

MR. LLOYD M. ESTES
Assistant Principal

OUR FACULTY Makes Northwest Classen

COUNSEL MAKETH A MAN ABLE. Indeed student's problems resolve themselves with the aid of Miss Retha Wave Hulet, girl's counselor; Mr. A. A. Johnson, freshman counselor; Mr. George Brucher, boy's counselor; Miss Inez Ellis, counselor in charge of tests and other devices for discovering aptitudes. The notion that teen-agers don't like advice is gainsaid by the popularity of the counsellor offices.

T BEHOOVES A MAN TO KNOW HIS NEIGHBORS. World knowledge comes first hand to many of our social studies teachers. Most recent globe-trotting for the bunch was that done by Miss Ophelia Byars this past summer. Courses in American and World History, Government and World Problems are popular with Northwest Classen students. One year of American History is required, but World History is optional. However the classes are packed and many have to revise schedules to other courses. Miss Byars, Mr. Don Van Pool, Miss Gladys Shepard, Mr. Cloy Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Peale and Mr. Duane Weinert have assembled in the Oklahoma Room of the library to do some research and refreshing on facts of Oklahoma History preparatory to questions that may be asked during the State's Semi-Centennial Celebration this spring.

an Infinitely Different School.

DATES, DEATHS AND DISASTERS are not the sum and substance of History. Miss Blanche Holland stimulates discussions by the use of maps, field trips, films, current events, and reports. Miss Holland also teaches psychology.

WANT TO PLAN A TRIP TO THE MOON? Well, now that might be asking for a little bit more than they could handle—just on a moments notice that is! If it can be scheduled these two super-planners can get the job done. Miss Kathleen Owen is our Activities Director. Mr. Jack Roblyer, teaches History, coaches basketball, and sponsors the Student Council.

MAKING MATHEMATICS INTERESTING is important to Mr. Rodney St. Dizier, '56-'57 department head. Miss Mary Pruitt stops in for a discussion of class procedures. Mr. St. Dizier holds to Geometry. Miss Pruitt adds a class in Trig. She is junior class sponsor and member of the Planning Committee. Mr. St. Dizier sponsors the amateur radio group and co-sponsors the aviation club.

IT ALL ADDS UP TO an expansive geometric design. Mrs. Nellie B. Ecton demonstrates to Mr. Rex Irwin. Mrs. Ecton specializes in teaching Algebra. She is a co-sponsor of Coronets, girl's pep club and a representative to OCCTA. Mr. Irwin sandwiches math classes between his duties as head football coach and track mentor. He thinks math a good proving ground for athletes.

They Unlock Our Faith and Inspire Us

IF YOU CAN'T FIGURE, YOU DON'T COUNT An opportunity to get a solid background in math for any career is offered at Northwest Clossen. The importance of math has never waned in our curriculum offerings. Its place in helping students acquire understanding and skills necessary to the highest personal development of the individual goes unchallenged. Miss Margaret Thompson, Miss Mary Wedding, Miss Julia Denny, Mr. Jean Finnell, Mrs. Mary Jane Mooney and Mr. Socce Lewis convene in the planning room to discuss departmental matters.

WHEN IT COMES TO EXTRA-CURRICULAR duties, faculty members indulge, too. Miss Audrie Alberts, Spanish teacher, helps keep the school scrapbook; is representative to OCCTA and sponsors National Honor Society. Mr. Virgil E. Coldwell teaches German and Spanish, sponsors the German Club is on the Classics Board, and does reporting for THE PIPE LINE, OCCTA official bulletin. Miss Inez Ellis, in charge of Tests and Measurements, teaches Spanish, directs the audio-visual aids program and co-sponsors Future Teachers of America. Miss Henrietta Von Tungeln teaches Spanish, and enjoyed a tour of Spain this summer. She is a freshman class sponsor; sponsors Honor Language; and is an OCCTA representative.

to Accept Challenges. We Proudly

ETERNALLY FEMININE! Regardless of the made women are fashion conscious. Miss Lucille Willoughby and Miss Lelia Pickard are admiring French fashions "ancien regime." Miss Willoughby teaches Latin and is senior class sponsor. Miss Pickard teaches French. She is a sophomore class sponsor, co-sponsors Honor Language, and is working to obtain a charter for an Honor French group.

"SO MANY MEN, SO MANY MINDS." Students enjoy the study of foreign language because it widens appreciation of cultures other than our own. Association of the language with the thinking of foreign peoples, enhances research into customs and traditions peculiar to a nationality and imparts a feeling of being cosmopolitan. Language students realize the oneness of today's world. They value contributions others have made to our way of living.

The American Field Service program, which sponsors teenagers on summer tours to foreign countries where they live three months as a "foster" child with a foreign family, has stimulated interest in foreign language. Eligibility includes having had two years study of a foreign language. The Foreign Exchange Student program also encourages interest.

TODAY'S SUDDEN ALL-OUT AWARENESS of things scientific did not startle our science department into action. Science scholarships, national recognition and awards are traditional with our instructors and students. Science and math, basic to the many phases of engineering, are much sought courses by Northwest Classen students, since so many of our graduates head toward those fields. For others it provides training for an adequate life in a fast changing world.

Mr. J. H. Conger teaches Physics and Aeronautics. Mr. Carl Shafer, teaches Chemistry. Mr. Marion M. Jamison, has Geology and General Science. Mrs. Geraldine Buzbee handles Biology and Natural Science. Mr. Wesley Sullivan combines his teaching into Biology and Chemistry. Mr. John Paden directs Research Science and teaches Biology. Conducting an annual Science Fair is a significant departmental project that has lead to important scientific discoveries.

Record for Posterity Events That

WHAT SHALL I BE WHEN I GROW UP? Throughout high school this is a vital question in most students thinking. To discover facts about different occupations is the purpose of Distributive Education and Diversified Occupations departments. On-the-job supervision is an important part of

of the training available to students seriously exploring probable future careers. Miss Beth West heads the Distributive Education program and Mr. John Standridge directs the activities covered in Diversified Occupations.

AN EDUCATION WITHOUT BENEFIT of ability to express oneself effectively in written or spoken word would be little better than illiteracy. No doubt much that English teachers require seems pretty stuffy at the time. But there comes a day in everyone's life when he wishes he knew more of the items stressed by his English teachers. Competitive writing contests, creative writing courses, films and recordings, along with book reviews, spur interest and give those who have ability beyond the demands of the routine courses opportunities to apply their talents. One of the best manned departments in the school each teacher has a specialty. Mrs. Hazel Livingston is department head '56-57. Left to right Mrs. Madge Mills; Miss Marjorie Miller; Miss Helen Bourke; Miss Della Link; Mrs. Hazel Livingston; Mrs. Mabel Park. Standing: Miss Katherine Gibson; Mr. Charles Kerr; Miss Ann Whitehead; Mrs. Gerrie Milburn.

Make 1956-57 Forever Memorable.

JOURNALISM IS FOR THE STOUTHEARTED! Students soon learn that in addition to being able to work with others on a team basis, that fortitude, ambition, tact and dependability are essential for the job of producing acceptable student publications. Three year service awards, OCIPA and Quill and Scroll are available for those who qualify for staff positions on THE SHIELD or the ROUND TABLE. Mrs. Neva Sartin is publications director. A course in Advertising was added to the journalism department this year.

SPEECH DEPARTMENT ACHIEVEMENTS are perhaps the most numerous academic awards garnered by NWC Knights and Ladies. Speech tournaments begin early and last throughout the school year. Trophies pop up with regularity. The repertory is resplendent with the art of fine conversation to challenging dramatic interpretations. This year saw the production of Julius Caesar Duties in the department are shared by Miss Lanora Owens, debate and speech; Mr. Ted Nichols stage craft and debate; Mrs. Rose Morris Cherry, speech and Little Theatre.

MUSIC IS A TERRIFIC FORCE among NWC students. Both instrumental and vocal departments are filled with determined souls who are not intimidated by zero hour requirements. Their efforts are sincerely enjoyed by their less musical classmates. THE CLASSICS, annual student production, reflects the high standards of interpretation gained under the exacting tutelage of choral director Mr. Frank Vitale and the baton precision of maestro Arthur Johnson. Numerous city-wide, county, state, regional and national competitions find NWC Knights emerging with top ratings.

May We Reflect Steadfastness Needed

ART IS A VARIOUS offering and appeals to a variety of students—some serious, some hoping for an easy grade. All find it meaningful and many who enter indifferently discover fascinating activities through which they find themselves. Free hand sketching, fashions, commercial art, oil, ceramics, metal enameling, illustrating and weaving are offered. Miss Mary Lamb Lewis and Mrs. Winnie Murray direct the activities of the department and sponsor the organizations which supplement regular courses.

PRECISION, PERSPECTIVE, PERSISTENCE are principles consistent with mechanical drawing. Taught by Mr. Alonso Norwood, students planning careers in industrial engineering find the training in graphic designing indispensable. Whether planning to build a bridge or a bird house, it's important to know how to read blue prints. For students interested in commercial advertising there is much profit in the art of understanding blue prints and engineering instructions.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Chattering typewriters chiseling words and the whirr of business machines hold fascination for a large segment of NWC students. Exacting skills and precision help learners to become earners and stand efficient students in good stead of aid toward realizing college educations or careers. Mr. Clark Cunningham, '56-'57 department head teaches Bookkeeping and Commercial Law. Miss Mildred Holland specializes in Shorthand. Mr. Alvin Bryan, whose Special Assignments, such as Safety Patrolling, consume the major portion of his time and effort, conducts a class in Junior Business Training and teaches Typing. Mrs. Evelyn Findly sticks strictly to Typing 2. Mrs. Maxine Tyler varies her offerings with Typing, Shorthand, Penmanship and Spelling. Mrs. Ivy Copeland directs Commercial Occupations and on-the-job training. She teaches Office Practices and Machine Bookkeeping. Mr. Gene Loftis teaches Business English, Shorthand and Typing 4.

of Tomorrow's Leaders. And Be

"IT IS THEIR CARE THAT THE WHEELS RUN TRULY" Becoming an artisan requires a knack not possessed by everyone. A sense of proportion, balance, design and imagination are evident in every pleasing piece of handicraft. Artcrafts, tooled and hand-turned and woodworking are a real opportunity for self-expression for students who have ability in manual dexterity. Mr. Leonard Marcotte's workers take pride in creating beautiful pieces of metal and leather work. Mr. Maurice Ghormley's students fashion all manner of woodwork items. The boys may not be able to build a house but they can build bloomin' near everything that a house houses.

THERE'S NEVER A DULL MOMENT for Mrs. Nola Moore, R.N. and her staff of Nurse Aides. A routine day in the clinic accepts 10 to 15 "bed" patients or dismisses them to go home. Imaginary illness leads some 50 to 75 in for an aspirin or a dab of mercurochrome. Lost and found items are stashed there. Then there's the annual rounds of flu shots for faculty members, basketball players and wrestlers. The TB mobile unit ran 1200 chest x-rays through; dental inspection for the entire ninth grade; and 734 polio shots were administered.

If there's nothing else it's ID pictures, or locker inspections. In an emergency the clinic could convert school facilities (tables &c) into a functional first aid ward that could care for the entire school population of Northwest Classen.

Mrs. Moore with her staff of aides, Carol Black, Marian Matthews, Jan McCulla, and Karen Moran, pause to find out what's going on by reading THE SHIELD.

THE HEARTH IS THE HEART of today's society. Northwest Clossen enjoys one of the finest homemaking departments in any high school in the land. An entire five-room dwelling is incorporated in the building. Here girls may have practical experience in home management. Homemaking is more than learning the cook-sew-dust routine. Finished homemakers emerge with well rounded personalities, intelligent interests and an appreciation of their individual civic responsibility. Mrs. Edna Hedges supervises Foods and teaches Child Guidance. Mrs. Romah Miller teaches Clothing and Home Nursing.

of Those We Shall Always

"INFINITE RICHES IN A LITTLE SPACE" No truer words were ever said of books. Life to have depth and purpose, must have an ideal to cherish, some great personality to imitate. Many a man's destiny has been shaped by the ideas and ideals found between the pages. Books were ever said of books. An invitation to reading is enhanced by the attractiveness of our library. Wide tables, comfortable chairs, perfect lighting, and the open shelves where a student may browse for a selection, make an hour spent in the library a tonic for dispelling a day's rough spots.

Miss Eunice Cockrum and Mrs. Alma Doughty are eternally vigilant for ways in which the library may contribute its maximum value to every user.

PLEASE, PASS THE PIE. Feeding 2,000 hollow legged teen-agers is the daily stint of Miss Pauline Butler and her helpers. Miss Butler is graduate of the University of Home Economics, has an internship in dietary, is coming to NWC from the Institute of Mental Research at Pratt Institute, and was foods director at Anna Maude's cafeteria in Oklahoma City.

THERE'S NEVER A DULL MOMENT for these four busy souls. They keep track of fees, funds and folios. Mrs. Doris Taylor, treasurer, keeps tabs on the money coming in, counting it off against expenses, keeping tabs on fees and dues and some 40 cuts and projects. Mrs. Billye Jo Pearce, registrar, files and finds grades; Mrs. Delma Harris, recorder, checks absentees. Mrs. Reba James, secretary to Mr. Estes, keeps track of "cuts"

TODAY'S DEMAND FOR STRONG BODIES to house alert minds makes physical education serious business and earnest study. Some 800 boys participate in sports through intramurals and team sports

Winnings are important to any athletic competition, but more important to Northwest Classen Knights is, "How we play the game." Our teams rank high in sportsmanship

All girls are encouraged to participate in physical activities and exercise. Femme team sports include basketball, badminton, table-tennis, volleyball, ping pong and swimming. This season found several girls interested in track. Golf is also available

Bowling is offered as an intramural only

Boys' and Girls' "O" Clubs are available for those who letter in sports

Competitive sports include football, basketball, wrestling, track, baseball, tennis and golf

Mrs. Barbara Dennis teaches swimming. She presides over individual sports and four P E sections also. Miss Nona Cowan breaks her P E schedule with a class in Hygiene and sponsors Team Sports

PROCTORS

There's something about being a proctor that appeals to teen-agers. It offers an opportunity for service, yet affords a sense of independence. Proctors are on duty during their advisory period. They may study while at their stations, if so inclined.

Being a proctor incorporates a challenge, too. Proctors taking the oath of their order assume the obligation of setting an example of conduct for others.

To offenders, or those who feel that routine regulations do not apply to them, proctors are considered a pest. Newcomers, not yet oriented, call them a blessing. Certainly the moment anyone steps into the hall during classtime, a pleasant voice will promptly accost "May I see your hall pass?"

If there is to be a trial for birth with issued a subpoena to appear in Proctor Court. The procedure of retaining an attorney, facing a jury, a prosecuting attorney, and probably becoming an inmate of the make-up room deters offenders.

A captain is in charge of shift on an hourly basis. He dictates stations and checks proctors placed in different parts of the building or on the grounds to find if they are enforcing the rules and regulations ordained for Northwest Classen's students to abide by. Mr. Lloyd Estes, assistant principal founded the proctor system and sponsors activities of the group.

Proctoring, however, is not all work and no play. Each spring a mixer as gay as the rest, features a Proctor Queen and royalty di-dos.

Knights and Ladies who aspire to footlight and headline glamor achieve membership in our really grown-up group of dramatists, NATIONAL THESPIANS. A series of services and public appearances pave the way for Little Theatre members to earn the required thirty points necessary for affiliation with the national group.

LITTLE THEATRE sponsors scholastic dramatic events. There are two main outlets for those with acting ability, beyond the requirements of Speech class—National Thespians and Little Theatre Members acquire know-how of make-up, directing, stage management and production.

To be an officer in Little Theatre one must be a National Thespian. This group puts poise and confidence on test before the footlights.

Jim Robinson is the stage manager for all assembly programs; he directs and co-ordinates the efforts of the stage crew and the cast. Pat Robinson does much of the art work. Allen Gibbs is chiefly interested in electrical effects and sound. Jim McMurray is the production. Each member has a special assignment for which he is responsible. The theme of "classcs '57" was "That Certain Something."

BACKBONE OF STUDENT PUBLICATIONS this year was Sydney Sullivant. Sydney editor-in-chief of THE SHIELD also rounded up things that others didn't get done on the ROUND TABLE staff. Through her never ending application to editorial duties she gave the student body the best paper the school has had. Her policies were clear cut and her guidance was firm. Shield writers took top ratings in state contests and THE SHIELD is in competition for THE GEORGE GALLUP AWARD, sponsored by Quill and Scroll for achievements during National Newspaper Week

Every NWC SHIELD STAFFER agrees that journalism is a great field. Besides teaching self-reliance, it stimulates awareness of happenings all over the world

Newspapering on THE SHIELD approaches professional training. With the advantages of an excellent physical set-up, aspiration to get a berth on the student publication staff has received great impetus

Devotion to duty, after school hours, holidays and weekends are the qualities that shine brightly

The responsibility of interpreting a school as large as ours, with so varied a program is no undertaking for weaklings. Very little can be accomplished in the limited class period assigned to producing a yearbook

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS is a program in which students are employed in the afternoon as student-learners and receive training in actual processes of a chosen occupation. Students attend school in the mornings where they receive instruction related to their job and in other general subjects.

Occupations offered are technical, skilled, or service, all of which require at least 2000 hours of training to become proficient. Among them

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION courses qualify eligible students for part time positions under supervision. Oklahoma City Chapters of D. E. Clubs of America hosted the national convention in Oklahoma City, April 24-27. Meeting headquarters were the Biltmore Hotel. The 14th Annual State Convention, held at Stillwater this year, found NWC's group entered in contests of job in-Commercial Artist, Jeweler, Dental Assistant, Nurse Aide, Laboratory Technician, Draftsman, Upholsterer, Lithographer, Printer, Photographer, Machinist, the building trades and many others.

What kind of high school students are those who think teaching will be their chosen field? It is estimated that about 1,300 Oklahoma students, as seniors, plan to teach, and 33.3 percent of the prospective teachers ranked in the upper 10 percent of their classes. NORTHWEST CLASSEN BAND directed by Mr Arthur Johnson, is divided into three sections—marching, pep and concert. Early morning rehearsals make possible the stimulating half-time performances of the ninety-five piece marching band led by drum major Larry Herndon at football games. Their precision marching in civic parades, the Christmas and inaugural parades, also become realizations through hard work and practice. The twenty members of the pep band led by Larry Herndon and Frances Fox provide music at pep assemblies, basketball games and other athletic events. The seventy members of the concert band are kept busy with concerts, contests and continual practice.

NWC band organizations are the Band Girls Club and Band Parents Association. Members of the Band Girls sponsor an annual paper drive which helps buy much needed equipment. Band Parents sponsor a fruit cake sale and rummage sale to raise money for the band and sponsor a three day outing in the spring for band members in addition to a pleasure trip once every three years. Last year the trip was to Houston, Texas. The annual magazine sales drive offers opportunities for members to win valuable prizes and provides needed equipment for the band.

Mr. Arthur Johnson, director, is a past president of Phi Beta Mu, honorary music fraternity, a graduate of Oklahoma A&M and did graduate work at the University of Michigan and the University of Oklahoma, and is a member of the American School Band Directors Association.

This year they have presented "The Lonesome Train," "Song of Christmas," and plan to give "Down in the Valley." Chair members went to Joplin, Missouri, for the Tri-State music festival. Mr. Frank Vitale sponsors the organization. Three candidates for Choir Queen were Rita Kaye Newton, Mary Binns, and Pat McCombs. Chosen from these three to reign over choir this year is Rita Kaye Newton.

CRY-SLURS is a group of twenty vocalists chosen from a cappella Choir. This smaller group makes TV appearances and does general good-will ambassadoring in representing our school. BOYS' "O" CLUB, is organized for boys who have shown outstanding ability in sports and have lettered in one or more of the eight major sports offered at Northwest Classen. Athletes who excel are nominated by the Athletic Council.

Besides participating in Northwest Classen Capers and operating concession stands at Basketball games, the organization sponsors the annual election of All Sports Queen. This year's election showed that Cindy Jones was favored at our school. Giving close competition were Judy Broach, Margaret Simon, Beth James and Janet Shields.

This organization encourages sportsmanship and helps to form fairminded citizens for tomorrow.

In summer heat or winter snows you'll find Cygnets on their toes. They gather a glee cheer their teams, help with community projects. They contribute their part to Classics, to student council and rate high in scholastic achievements. They're at every sports event.

You may recognize these girls by their purple sweaters and purple skirts. Or look for Tutu, their unique mascot, a tiny French poodle. Her silky coat is dyed purple and she is a wags with them.

The main social of the Cygnet year is the annual football banquet. Cygnets also sponsor an annual style show, at which Courtesy club members model. They sponsor mixers and entertain track boys with a Spring Sports picnic.

Cygnets Have Pep; Cygnets Have Go!

Cygnets Really Steal the Show.

S-h-h-h-h[†] Don't let Bud Wilkinson hear about these stars.

The Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club was the scene of '56-'57 Football Banquet at which Cygnets honored the grid warriors. Entertainment for the event was a take-off on Ed Murrow's PERSON TO PERSON program. The place was literally swarming with VIP's and others not so Impo , but all having the time of their young lives

Dinner, presentation of letters to team members, and dancing made it an evening long remembered.

Leslie Pitney and Karen Thornton headed the committee on entertainment. First semester officers were Olivia Nixon, President; Allison Kearney, Vice President; Barbara Highleyman, Secretary; Ruth Hill, Asst Secretary.

Pat Ketchum was elected President secretary
Shelley Gardner Treasurer

The club picnic is a main social event of the spring semester.

Go, Team, Go! You'll Win We Know.

What's grander than a day in Spring when baseball bats begin to ring?

Oh, for the life of a canine! TUTU, Cygnet mascot, takes an active part in all pep assemblies.

Coronets Have the Club They Know Is Best

Croquet, tennis, walking, swimming, or the boat or the rowing team. Miss Katherine Giffen, Mrs. Ann Wetherell, Mrs. Maxine Taylor, Mrs. Nellie Ecton and Miss Ophelia Byars sponsor the group's activities.

"HEAR YE! Hear ye!
Knights of the Northwest
We've got the club
That we know is best!"

ENTHUSIASTIC girls wearing flashy gold sweaters and purple pleated skirts are seen at all Knight sports contests, yelling their team to victory. One event on the CORONET calendar each year is the basketball banquet held in March. Identification patches are presented by the girls and letters and jackets are given to players by Mr. Jack Roblyer, coach.

Ad selling is the big project during vacation. The club sponsors bus trips and school mixers, ushers for community programs, supports charity drives and rallies to support the Classics and other school programs.

BOOSTING SCHOOL SPIRIT comes first with members of The Lancers, boys pep club. Each year members gather food to fill Christmas baskets for less fortunate families and participate in social service projects sponsored by the school.

Members are encouraged to become well-rounded by taking part in all phases of the school program. An important position for one of their members this year is holding the presidency of the school.

At an annual Christmas formal, Lancers crown a Queen. Harriet Hughes captured the honor this year. Candidates were Jenny Everett, Jo Ann Holmes, Irene Pellow and Sara Spradling. Mr. Charles Hale, Mr. Socie Lewis and Mr. Marion Jamison sponsor Lancer activities.

Knights Surprise First Night Viewers

"Ardmore, Ardmore hear our cry! V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!
Are we in it? Well I guess. Northwest Classen
Y-E-S!"

Highlighting a successful schedule, Northwest Classen's romping Knights clipped Ardmore 7-6 in the season opener September 14. September 20 the Knights charged Southeast's squad and rolled over the Spartans 20-7.

The chant "Trample Trojans" echoed through Northwest halls September 28 before the Douglass match. Another victory! In the initial meeting with this team the Knights won by a single touchdown, but suffered the loss of a valuable player. Bob Cornell was injured in the third quarter.

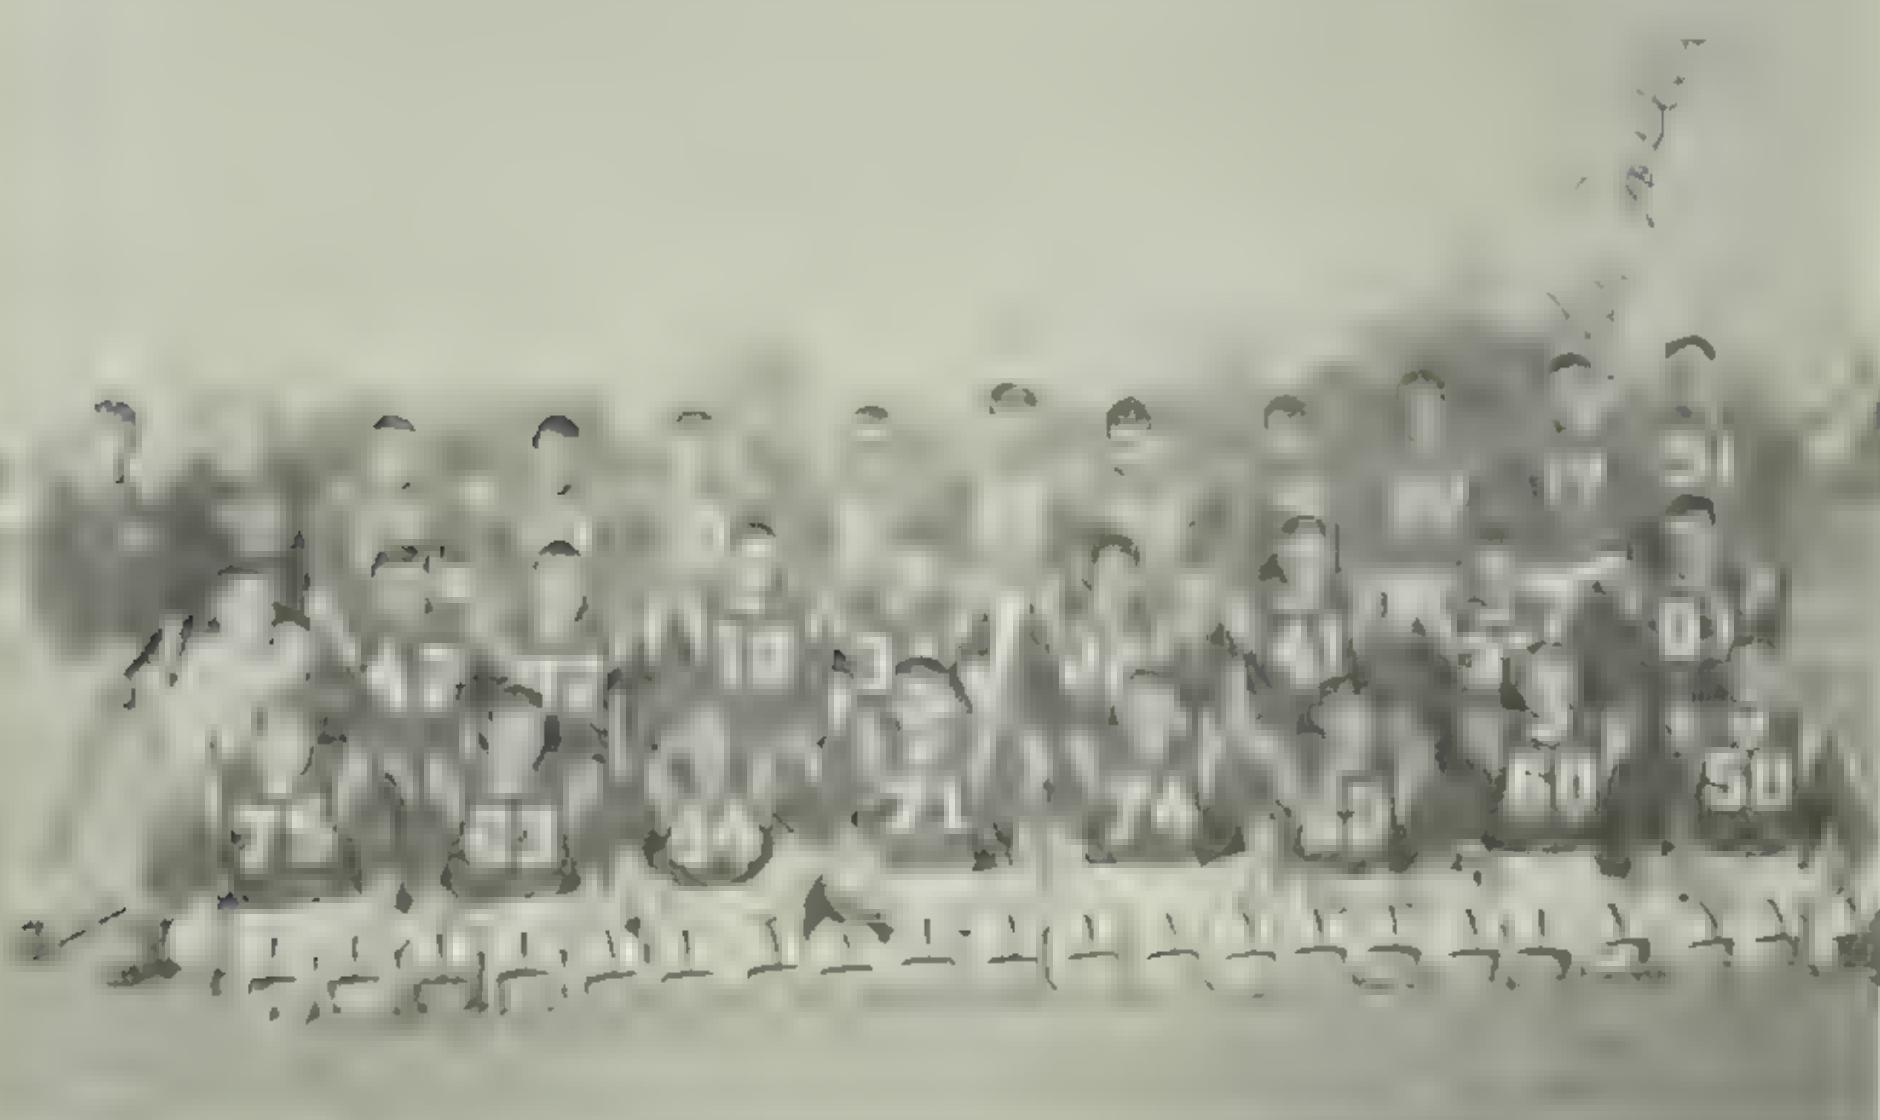

Spirit at an all time high October 5, loyal Knight supporters chartered five busses to jaunt to Lawton. In a hard fought game Lawton took the Knights 26-7. October 11 the Knights paged Central's Cardinals 25-6 to the rollicking battle cry of "Cage Cardinals." Next the Knights invaded the Shawnee Wolves' den. They galloped home from this venture bringing scalps and all, to the tune of 34-0.

October 25 brought the BIG ONE, Capitol Hill. Without the benefit of quarterback Bob Cornell, injured in the Douglass game, Northwest Classen lost this tussle 14-7. The next week-end the Knights crown tumbled at a defeat by Enid 19-14.

Northwest Classen's first annual Homecoming, November 9, was sparked by an 18-7 victory over Seminole. November 15 Northeast's Vikings invaded Knightland to be overrun 13-6.

Tulsa's Will Roger's Ropers posed a threatening challenge to the Knights November 21. Another bus trip poured loyal Knight supporters into Skelly Stadium, Tulsa, to watch their footballing gallants fight a scoreless tie to wind up another successful season, featuring seven wins, three defeats and one tie.

Offensive play by quarterback Bob Cornell and halfback Don Timberlake sparked Northwest Classen's 20-7 victory over the Spartans. Timberlake scored on a 68 yard punt return and a 59 yard dash on an intercepted pass. Cornell led the Knights to a first quarter lead with a 70 yard dash on a keeper.

Bob Cornell quarterback played an outstanding game against the Douglass Trojans. He set up Northwest's first touchdown with two long passes to halfbacks Don Timberlake and Frank Bruner, early in the second quarter. Buzzy McDonald completed both conversions for the Knights. Cornell limped off the field with a leg injury in the fourth quarter, which ended his high school football career. The Knights drove to a 14-7 victory in this conference opener.

October 5—Lawton

Lawton's victory over the Knights was the first upset of the season. Before a crowd of 8,000, Lawton tallied 26-7. The Knights, however, showed Lawton some rugged defensive play. Quarterback Jim Parks' 45 yard punting average was a high spot of the game. Beautiful teamwork by Frank Bruner and Don Timberlake gave Northwest Classen its only touchdown.

Northwest Classen's halfback Frank Bruner streaked 95 yards during the first quarter to give the Knights their first score of the evening. Sophomore quarterback Buzz McDonald made both conversions, but the Knights fell, 19-14, at the hands of the Enid Plainsmen. The irony of this defeat was that this was the Plainsmen's first win of the season.

November 9—Seminole

Homecoming fans saw Northwest Classen push to an easy 18-7 victory over Seminole. At the opening kickoff the Knights took a lead which they never gave up. The most exciting play of the game came after the final gun sounded. Barnett threw a pass into the end zone for a touchdown, but an illegal receiver downfield wiped out the score.

It Takes Vim To Win

This year's basketball team was a hot and cold aggregation that provided many thrills for fans.

Northwest Classen's Knights, coached by Mr. Jack Roblyer, began easily with wins over Douglass and U. S. Grant in festival contests November 30. The Knights met Southeast December 4, ringing up their third straight conquest of the season.

Next on the agenda was powerful Lawton who pulled past the Knights 47-41. Northwest suffered another defeat December 11, losing by 14 points to Blackwell. December 13th Knight roundballers traveled to Tulsa for the Tulsa Tourney and returned sporting a 1-1 record. December 18 the Knights knocked off Northeast's Vikings 47-42. After Christmas Northwest entered the second tournament of the season, in Enid. Enid followed the Knights home for a game January 4. Plainsman might proved too much for the Knights who went down in defeat 61-45.

Spirit rose to a fever pitch as the Knights squeezed Central 40-38 in an overtime chiller. January 11, loyal supporters followed Knight roundballers to Dodge City, Kansas. Northwest took the tilt in the last quarter, 53-48. January 15 the Knight squad visited the Douglass court. In a beautiful game of skill, the Trojans drove to victory 53-51. If a thriller were called for, fans got it January 18 when the Shawnee Wolves trotted onto the Northwest court. Knights staged a superb exhibition of team play and outscored the Wolves 45-43.

Agonizing suspense kept a spirited crowd on the edge of their seats until the last few minutes of the game when Northwest met Capitol Hill on the Redskins home court. The Redskins nudged the Knights 34-19. Northwest spilled Catholic High 57-42 in a hard fought battle January 29. In a three-minute overtime thriller the Knights went down 40-38 at the hands of the Douglass Trojans February 1. February 5 the roundballers traveled to Duncan and were defeated 43-36. Then on to Enid where they went down fighting to a score of 57-45. The Knights nearly ran Harding off the court in a thrilling match of skills February 12 when Northwest stomped the Eagles 56-36. February 15 the Shawnee Wolves defeated the Knights 59-44. Knight defenses sparked a well fought game February 22 as the Knights met the Redskins on the home court. Capitol Hill defeated Northwest 54-48. Northwest surprised the Midwest City Bombers by stomping them 71-57 in the last home game of the season for the Knights. March 1 the Knights invaded John Marshall and clipped the Bears 56-48.

Northwest Classen victoriously entered the semi-finals of the class AA Regional Tournament, surprising Capitol Hill 49-44 in the second overtime period of the game.

Northwest Classen completed its '56-'57 schedule with a 15-11 record.

December 18—Northeast

Northwest coasted past Northeast's Vikings 47-42 for the sixth victory of the season. John Pryor, Bob Lewis, and Ronnie Skaggs led the Knights with 10 points each.

Going after a possible rebound are Knights Bob Lewis (77) and Jim Smelser (33) in the Northwest Classen-Dodge City, Kansas tilt January 11. Knights won 53-48.

With the pressure on, the Knights entered the 3 minute overtime to a score of 35-35. With only 10 seconds left the Trojans made the score 40-38. Barnett, Skaggs, and Lewis each garnered 10 points for Northwest.

Knight skill dominated the court when Northwest met Harding. With Knight subs seeing much action the Knights ripped the Eagles 56-36. Ronnie Skaggs bagged 16 points, followed closely by Barney Barnett with 11 points and Bill Karpenko with 10 points.

February 22—Capitol Hill

In a rough and tumble game that featured sharp defenses by the Knights, Northwest Classen bowed to arch rival, Capitol Hill, 54-48. The Knight rally was sparked by Ronnie Skaggs and Bob Lewis who totaled 18 points and 10 points respectively.

February 26—Midwest City

Northwest Classen edged in front late in the first half and went on to a surprise victory over Midwest City, stomping the Bombers 71-57, in the last home game of the season. Jim Smelser led the way for the Knights with 18 points. Ronnie Skaggs added 16, Tom Kingery and Bob Lewis 11 each and Barney Barnett 10.

Stan will be the only freshman to letter in wrestling and the first freshman to letter in this sport in the city.

Not all the time was spent in the fine art of wrestling, as Mr. Marcotte and his wrestling Knights proved. Several members of the team as well as Coach Marcotte had two overnight camping and hunting trips and also took part in a 300-man wolf hunt staged in Harrah, March 10.

The boys qualify for this by playing 54 holes, and the four with the lowest score are chosen. The golfers began their season March 21 with a City Round Robin Tournament, in which the Knights played each school in the city twice. In April they played in the Mid-State Tournament and on May 1 and 2 they participated in the State Golf Tournament. The golfers also met Ardmore, El Reno, Casady, Enid, and participated in the Amarillo Golf tournament, April 6.

Jackie Gaumer explains inscriptions to be used on intramural trophies to M. Kathleen Owen and Eric S. ...

Intramurals Invite All To Play

Northwest Classen has one of the finest intramural programs in the state. Its success is due largely to the hard work of the director, Miss Kathleen Owen.

Intramural sports offer each student the opportunity to participate in an organized program of athletics and recreation. The intramural program provides facilities for such recreation and at all times fosters a spirit of fair play and sportsmanship among participants. Among the sports offered are volleyball, wrestling, basketball, bowling, table tennis, chess, badminton, swimming, track, tumbling, golf, and softball.

No person may play in a sport in which he or she has lettered or holds membership in the school team of that sport. In order for a student to participate in an intramural sport, he must fill out an entry blank and return it to the intramural box by the specified time and date. All winners are presented individual trophies in every sport.

All Spring Sports Are Really Fun

Northwest Classen girls basketball team in action, playing against their opponents.

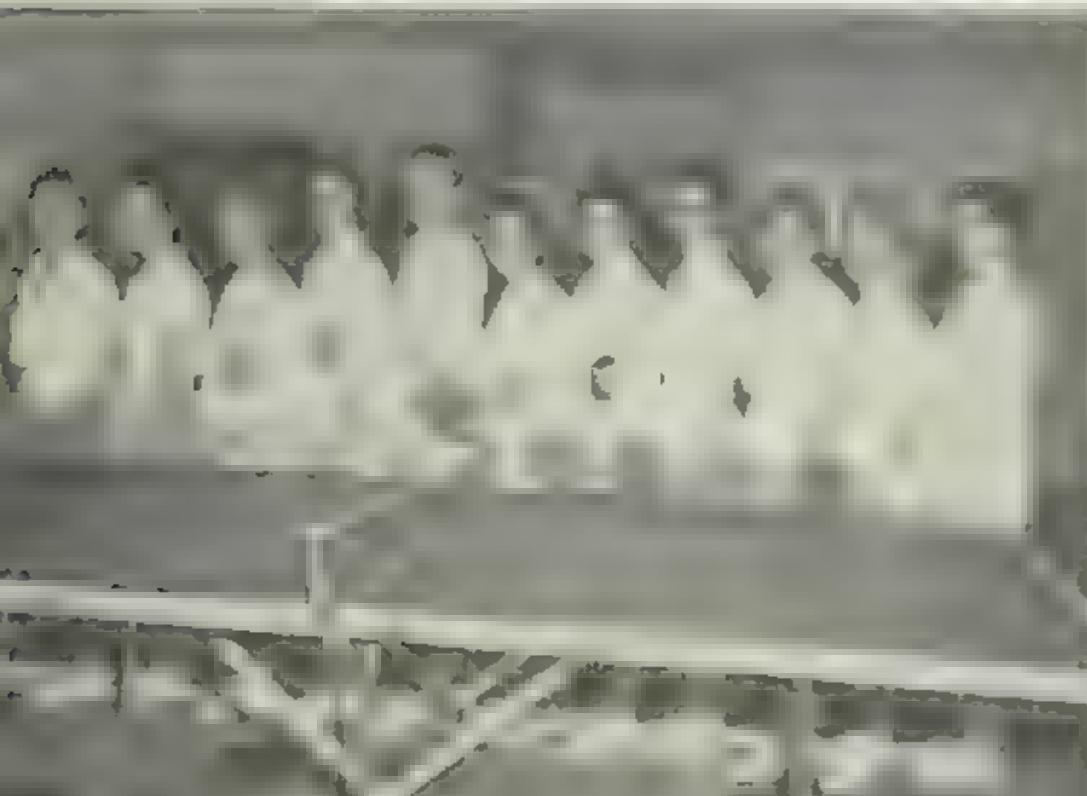

Sports techniques are developed for Northwest Classen girls as well as for boys in numerous fields of physical education. From the first of September until the last of May, girls engage in a program of well rounded sports. From the interest developed in physical education classes which are required in the sophomore year, many girls go on to attain recognition in sports fields. Volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis, swimming, table tennis, and badminton, are some of the popular sports that afford girls fun, exercise and competition.

Northwest Classen's lady roundballers shoved through a full schedule of matches to win 4 out of 6 games. Wins were Harding, 47-39, Douglass, 39-14; Capitol Hill, 45-31; U. S. Grant, 38-28.

The girls' volleyball team came through with a 6-5 record.

March 29 the baseball team traveled to Amarillo where they batted against Pala Duro and won 7-4. Digby Sorenson made the only homerun and boosted himself to a top hitters station, along with Buzzy McDonald, Ronnie Skaggs and Rusty Higby. Pitcher Tom Belcher gave only six hits. March 30 the Knights slammed an 8-5 victory over the Amarillo High Sandies.

Top hitters were J. D. Reynolds and Joe Melton. Pitchers Jim Daniel and Carl Snelson gave up four hits to the Sandies. Later in the season the Knights play Capitol Hill, Douglass, Shawnee, Central, Northeast and John Marshall. April 18, 19, and 20 the team travels to Norman for the OU tournament.

1957's track edition, defending State champions, showed excellent promise in taking a second title at Mid-season. Although plagued with injuries, Knight thinclads ran to two wins and one lost in meets and a good showing at the Aggie relays.

March 6, Northwest Classen played host to Chickasha and Harding in a triangular meet. Knights topped with 53 points to Chickasha's 48½ and Harding with 22½. At Capitol Hill March 12 the Knights pulled ahead to win 62½ to the Redskins 55½. Northwest Classen took eight first places in this dual meet.

Lawton's powerful Wolverines swooped to a 69-49 victory over the Knights in a dual meet March 19. At the Aggie Relay Previews, March 29-30, Northwest Classen's two mile relay team, Charles Fryer, Jim Mashore, Don Timberlake and Joe Groseclose took a second place and Jerry Thrower tied for third place in the pole vault.

Remaining in the season's schedule are seven meets: City; Bison Relays; Central State; Mid-State conference, Regional and State, and Oklahoma City Invitational. In the State meet of May 1956, Northwest milers, Joe Groseclose, Gary Pierce, Don Timberlake and Vernie Sanders won first in 3:27. Bob Cornell swept to a first in the low hurdles in 21.7 and second in the low hurdles.

Student Council

President

September 4, 1956, brought 2,000 boys and girls together in one of the most beautiful schools ever constructed. It was these 2,000 students working together that wrote the second chapter in the annals of Northwest Classen High School. They did their job to the best of their abilities. How well, those following us will decide. You, the Knights of Northwest Classen, were challenged to make this beautiful building a vibrant, living school with a heart and soul. You accepted this challenge in a wonderful way, making our school a place of pride.

I have had the immeasurable blessing of being permitted to work, play and live with the finest student body ever. In parting, I say "God's richest blessings to you, freshmen, sophomores and juniors, in carrying the banner of the Knight's Kingdom."

BILL KARPENKO

Planning activities for the student body are the Student Council Officers Jim Clark, store supervisor; Ann Buck historian; Wade McAlister, treasurer; Kaye Ferguson, secretary; Bill Karpenko, president; Mr. Jack Roblyer, advisor; Leslie Conner, vice-president and Peggy Dromgold, parliamentarian.

Candidates for Student Council President, Wade McAlister, Leslie Conner, Mike Brandon, Rondy Robins and Bill Karpenko discuss procedures for the campaign.

Round Table Queen

Round Table queenship, accepted as the most important royalty at Northwest Classen, gave the student body its only chance to nominate directly in selection of candidates. Students holding publication packages were eligible to have a voice in this contest. Suspense was high since candidates were named in mid-December, but the winner was not announced until Round Table distribution time, May 15, 1957. Finally the moment of anticipation arrived when Julia Dorr was proclaimed queen by her escort-manager Roy Love. In token of her queenship, the journalism department presented her a bracelet. Other girls in the royal spotlight were Dayna Davis, Peggy Dromgold, Sally Dunaway and Olivia Nixon. The '57 coronation inaugurated the "SIGNATURE MIXER," a farewell to seniors which will become a journalism department tradition.

JULIA DORR

Sports Queen

Five girls were nominated by members of the Boys "O" Club for All Sports Queen. After a week of campaigning, poster parties and open houses, students who had purchased activity tickets went to the polls and selected Cindy Jones to reign as the 1956-1957 Queen. In a coronation ceremony November 9, 1956, Barney Barnett, President of the Boys "O" Club, presented Cindy with a loving cup and white coat signifying her queenship.

Other candidates were proclaimed Sport Princesses of various sports and were given loving cups as mementos of the occasion. Ruling over the respective sports were Judy Broach, football and golf; Beth James, track and wrestling; Janet Shields, basketball and tennis and Margaret Simon, baseball and swimming.

Grace and Charm Second to None

Choosing a queen is a hard task for any group. Many Northwest Classen "Ladies" possess beauty, charm, personality and grace, but not all can be nominated to a queenship. The custom is to nominate five contestants. These girls each conduct a campaign under direction of a campaign manager. Halls become suddenly festive with displays and slogans that shout why students should vote for a certain candidate.

Zoom Skyward

"RIP THE REDSKINS" was the Knight's slogan during the week of the Capitol Hill football game. A tremendous fire climaxed the spirit packed week of October 22, 1956. At this second annual bonfire in honor of the Football team, Barney Barnett president of the Boys "O" Club was master of ceremonies. Activities of the evening started with a spectacular torch lighting the fire. At the conclusion of Coach Rex Irwin's pep talk, an hilarious snake dance wound around the bonfire. Basketballers were also to get a booming bonfire before their meeting with the ferocious Redskins. Like eager beavers the students gathered wood diligently until the pile almost reached the sky. Then to add "fuel to the feud," the Skins jumped the gun and burned our supply. But the undaunted Knights gathered spunk to spark the fight, and built a fire that put night to flight.

Fire soaring skyward demonstrates our eagerness for victory over the Capitol Hill Redskins at the second annual bonfire.

Classics is an all-student written and student produced project. As the final curtain closed on Classics '56, work began on this year's show with the careful planning of the Classics' Executive Board.

After this year's theme, "That Certain Something," was selected, the writing and continuity was entirely in the hands of the Act Directors, Mary Beth Baker and Carole Sue Sutton, Act I; Kaye Ferguson and Lynn Christian, Act II and Kay Ellison and Pat Mooney, Act III. Auditions, rehearsals, costume conferences and the untiring work of both the 325 members of the cast and stage crew form the nucleus of this show.

If at any time the act directors hit a snag, they may go to Mrs. Rose Marie Cherry, Mr. Ted Nichols and Miss Kathleen Owen who remain in the background. The tremendous financial success of this show is rewarding and the money is reinvested in the school.

from the original Classen. Gosh, so long ago—and yet, how vividly we recall maneuvering between paint buckets and plasterers

Ducking around or through "Off Limit," "Closed to Students," and "Gloss" signs. We clamored over boards, sloshed through mud, knocked down workmen, while hurrying to our classes that changed location so often we were never sure we were in the right one at the right time. We've watched mud disappear under sidewalks, we've watched boards become buildings. It's been a grand two years. We never thought we'd ever see a school like this

May our brief and maybe sometimes shallow footsteps in these hallowed precincts inspire others to carry on worthy traditions and aspire for ever higher goals

HEY, FELLOWS! IT JUST DAWNED on me. We are Northwest Classen's new leaders! We're top dog after June 1, 1957!

Ours is the first class to have attended Northwest Classen all three years of our high school career. We were fortunate to have had a hand in the beginning of our school while we were sophomores. As juniors we designed a class ring which will be followed by future graduates. We hope this will be permanent bond between all alums and their alma mater.

Now, it's full steam ahead gang—we have one more year. Let's dedicate ourselves to becoming the BEST CLASS YET. We've had advantages no group before has known. Are you with me?

We foresee this homey balcony, sheltered from the sun and opening on the Jock e Wright Memorial Patio, as a focal point for future Knight activities. Here they may assemble for summer evening band concerts, outdoor dramatic productions, pageants, Sunday afternoon youth activities, inspired by the beauty of tall shade trees and soft green sword.

SOPHOMORES HELD A UNIQUE position this year. Our sophomore year is our first in high school. While we adjusted to the situation we were setting an example for the freshman class.

We hope we have taken this responsibility maturely. Take a look at the sophomores in Classics, speech activities, on the newspaper and in student council. We feel we have proved our interest by actively supporting all the school functions.

Next year, we hope we will be able to assume the role of being juniors and upperclassmen, confidently and gracefully.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

Bobby Nichols, Sergeant at Arms; Gloria Tracy, Vice President; David Howell, President; Mike Miller, Treasurer; Kathleen Schoenhals, Secretary

PERHAPS DENIED THE PLEASURE OF being big ducks in the puddle, that has come to former Taft ninth graders, is offset by our having the '57 ROUND TABLE dedicated to us. The distinction of being the first freshman class in the annals of Northwest Classen has been a conscious part of our class activities this year.

We appreciate the courtesy that has been extended to us by all classes. We grin when recalling the signs, so courteously put up in the halls by upper-classmen, saying "Third floor this way;" "Escalator next floor;" "Just one more flight;" but best of all, "Welcome Freshmen." We smile when we think of how we tried to get directions to classes from seniors who weren't sure themselves where rooms were in their new school.

Yes, it's been a glorious year and we hope that next year we may be the guiding light to incoming freshmen.

A striking pattern of light and dark wood paneling is to be seen in the appropriately Southwestern style interior of the front entrance hall and lobby. Along this sweep of the front is housed the administrative office, the main office, the secretarial center and the library.

Acknowledgments

As we prepare this final page of your 1957 ROUND TABLE we remember, with hearts filled with gratitude, the many kindnesses and helps that have been extended to us to help make this your best yet ROUND TABLE.

First the consideration and indulgence of the administration and faculty, for their demonstration of understanding and tolerance in arranging necessary picture schedules for class and group pictures and their cooperation in getting faculty pictures. No one but a veteran staff member can fully appreciate how much this means to the success of a book.

To the patience of the custodians, who let us into the building that we might work during school holiday sessions and didn't kick us out when night fell. This meant that we met that all-important date.—DEADLINE

Student support of the Publication-Packet and general interest in having pictures taken for the class sections certainly gets a rousing, "THANK YOU, KIDS!" from all of us. We dared not do less than our best in return for your loyalty.

If there's one fellow we could not do without, it's Hal Owen. To his patience and understanding of our problems and excellent workmanship should go a large portion of the credit if the '57 R. T. rates any awards.

Let not the forebearance of those at SEMCO COLOR PRESS go unmentioned. They have bent over backward to try to do the impossible things that every staff wishes could be done.

To Mary Lamb Lewis and Mrs. Winnie Murray of the art department goes a deep sweep of our plumes. We know Mary Lamb just won't let us make a misbubble in page balance, (if she knows about it.)

And a fond farewell to Mrs. Neva Sartin, director of publications, who kept on our tails and had no mercy when it came to getting the job done. We owe a great vote of thanks to Mr. Clark Cunningham for his managing of the business side of the job and his distribution of the finished product. If we had that added to our routine of demands we doubt that we'd manage it.

As we write this, the nucleus of next year's staff is planning next year's book. We are tenderly guiding them with all the know-how we have achieved, we wish them well. May they have the goodwill and west wishes from their associates that have marked our efforts.

Mr. Ivan Beeson, Head Maintenance Engineer. Have you ever considered what 'fixing things, oiling squeaks and keeping up a general apple pie appearance' at Northwest Classen entails. Mr. Beeson, with 16 helpers, keeps plugging from dawn to dark and even at that they frequently find themselves doing tomorrow, some of yesterday's chores.

Mr. Hal Owen has a second love—thorough-bred cattle. Here he relaxes from the tumult of kids tumbling in for pictures, with a highly prized animal from his herd.
